SCHOOLBOY SERIES WILL CLOSE TODAY AT LEAGUE GROUND

Business Hot Favorite to Defeat Western Eleven for Second Place Honor.

By BRYAN MORSE.

The 1916 high school football season will come to an end today with the Business-Western game scheduled for American League Park, If ground

American League Park. If ground conditions are right the elevens will take the field with the odds greatly favoring Business on account of its faster and heavier eleven.

Despite the difference in weight, the records of the elevens playing today have been much the same. Western lost its opening engagement to Central, while Business in its first start dropped the contest to the champions.

Both teams defeated Tech and Eastern, and stand today tied for second place in the scholastic standing. The contest will have no bearing on the title, as Central has already made away with the championship.

Today's battle should be one worth watching because of the style of football employed and the fact that both elevens are tough losers. Business is picked to win decisively, as the Stenographers average something like twelve peunds to the man heavier than the Red and White eleven.

Same Teams Playing. Practically the same elevens which started the scholastic series will take part in today's game. Western may be able to use Noble Simpson, who has been out of the game with a broker nose for the better part of the series The line-ups follow:

may be termed the father of swimming in this city.

Brunner's recent appointment as instructor at Central gave the school great satisfaction as it is believed he is the best man in this section.

The Army and Navy Preps will tackle the Tome School team at Port Deposit, Md., tomorrow, leaving on the morning train. George Green, coach at St. Albans last year, is at Tome this season and has been helping Allie Miller whip the Tome team into shape.

Unless all signs fail the Tome team will have its hands full in defeating the local players. The Preps have had an in and out season, but have developed unusual strength all along the line.

A number of shift plays which employ forward passing to a considerable ex-tent will form the basis of the Prep play. Coach Newberry is expecting to win if his eleven performs up to Selections Are Due.

The annual all high school football selections are due within the next few days. A perusal of the games played to date develops the fact that there were no consistent kickers save Buck Wise in punting and no drop kickers or place kickers worthy of kickers or place kickers worthy of the name.

Comparison of players this year and last is all in favor of the boys who tolled in 1915. Team play, bagring the fumbling, of which there has been too much, has been uniformly better. With few so-called stars playing the standard of play has been raised considerably.

Rembering such players as Roberts, Ochsenreiter, Williams, and Hart, of Tech; Culligan, Stern and Wassman, of Business; Macdonald, Roberts, and Jones, of Central; Peck, Whelchel and Grayson, of Western, and Lanahan, of Eastern, it is difficult to select this year's all high players.

CROWD TO BE LARGE. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 24 .-

Just 77,453 spectators will see tomor-Yale-Harvard football game here. Harvard has been awarded 28,171. In the total are 244 press tickets and 300 sideline tickets and badges. Two years ago the attendance was 68,042. BROOKLANDERS LEAVE.

for Connellsville, Pa., where it will spend the night before going to Morgantown, W. Va., for tomorrow's clash with West Virginia University. The Brooklanders are handicapped by many injured players, but hope to make a good showing.

ROLLS 199 SCORE IN DUCKPIN GAME

Chenowith, Baltimore Bowler, Holds Record for League Competition.

by Dick Chenowith, on the Baltimore alleys.

This is seventeen pins better than the local record, and according to authorities probably is the biggest game ever rolled at the style of duckpins predominating in this section. Games of more than 200 are made frequently with rubber-bellied pins.

Although no record of Chenowith's string is available, it is said on good authority that he made nine marks, the unusual total being made possible by three or four successive strikes in the early boxes. Had Chenowith made ten spares, wiht a nine-pin count on each, his total would have been only 190.

Miss Eckhardt Ties Record.

Miss Edna Eckhardt, one of the most skillful of local women duckpin rollers, recently equaled the record of 125 for a game held by Mrs. Vogels of 125 for a game held by Mrs. Vogels-berger. Miss Eckhardt has been roll-ing consistently good scores all sea-son, her average being around the century mark. Her 125 game was rolled on the new Mt. Pleasant alleys. Manager Shirley Downing, of the Mt. Pleasant establishment, is con-ducting a Thanksgiving tournament, with a turkey as the prize. Simmons has obtained the largest game in the event so far of 149.

Rolls Queer Match. Krazy Katz won two out of three games from the Midnight Crew team, of the Southeast League, at the South east alleys last night, but lost the match. The agreement was that the team which rolled the lowest scores would be the winner, the loser, having would be the winner, the loser, having the best scores, to pay for a supper for the opposing quint.

Krazy Katz managed to win the first game, getting four pins less than Midnight Crew, but made too many marks in the next two, and the Midnight Crew triumphed. In the final game, Kapnick, of Krazy Katz, made the mistake of rolling 151.

Coach Exendine today holds his Coach Exendine today holds his final practice on the eve of the Bucknell contest tomorrow. The Hillton mentor is still in doubt as to the line-up which will start the battle. In today's practice at least two backfields will be used. Maloney, Gilroy, McQuade and Wall make up the first string quartet, with Jim Sullivan, O'Boyle, Supple and Leighty making the second. While the first string players should start the contest against the Pennsylvanias, they will have to show rare speed to remain, as the second string four is quite as good.

Tomorrow's game will begin at 2:30 o'clock.
